EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Augusta, June 6, 1866.

To Municipal Authorities:

A CONSTRUCTION has been placed upon the blank applications for State Pension, to which it is perhaps liable, though by no means intended, (as will appear by the instructions accompanying the blanks,) that every party applying shall declare him or herself a pauper. To correct this, in all cases in which persons applying are not receiving aid, either public or private, the third paragraph of the application signed by the proposed beneficiary, which declares the inability in the second line, should be changed by striking out the words "am" and "and," and "continue to," so that line will read "obtain a livelihood for myself and those dependent upon me, and shall be compelled to," &c.

The object of this law is to relieve those who may be paupers, and prevent others from becoming so, and will be so administered.

EPHRAIM FLINT, Secretary of State.

Despatches to the Evening Times.

Terrible Tornado at Havre de Grace—

NEW YORK July 27.

Cholera is again increasing with the return of war weather. Sixteen new cases were reported yesterday, of which several several were fatal.

A very bad state affairs prevails on Wards Island. Several persons have died of cholera, and there are now 11 hopeless cases. It is believed however that the epidemic will be controlled.

Cholera has been discovered in the lower part of State street and at 113 Mulberry street, there were four cases in one room.

In Brooklyn 23 cases are reported.

On Governor's Island affairs look promising, there being no new cases.

The number of burial permits since Sunday has been 420, and the number of fatal cases of cholera 20, which is more favorable than during the same days last week.

Four Fenians were discharged from custody at Toronto yesterday. It is probable that several more will be released.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.

During the heavy storm last evening, the new bridge which has been under construction some years over the Susquehanna river, from Perryville to Havre de Grace, was entirely destroyed.

CINCINNATI, July 26.

The Democratic Convention for the 4th Congressional District of Ohio was held at Piqua yesterday and delegates to the Philadelphia Convention were chosen.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.

Reliable despatches confirm the report that the bridge over the Susquehanna river was blown off the piers by the tornado last night.

Considerable anxiety for the steamer Kennebec which went to Cape May yesterday with 1000 sabbath school children, was dispelled by the safe arrival at noon to-day.

The tornado at Havre de Grace did considerable other damage than the destruction of the bridge. Houses were prostrated, trees uprooted, &c. A despatch from there says the bridge trembled for a moment and then was hurled from its piers into the river with a terrible crash, and ten spans each 250 feet long rendered a complete wreck. The river and bay is strewed with the debris for miles. Only one span on the Cecil side remains. The loss cannot fall short of $200,000 and perhaps much more. Several workmen were carried into the river, but were rescued. To-day several steam tugs are traversing the river and bay saving the wrecked material, and the disaster although serious will be promptly met by the energy of the company. The wind lasted about 15 minutes and swept the country in a belt about 10 miles wide. Considerable damage was done at Port Deposit by the storm.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.

Gov. Fletcher has addressed a letter to the Secretary of the State Central Committee of Missouri, urgently recommending the appointment of thoroughly radical delegates to the convention of the southern Unionists to be held in Philadelphia in September next.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.

A despatch from Perryville says the work of rebuilding the bridge has already been commenced. The stone work was not injured. There is every reason to believe the whole work can be completed for the passage of trains previous to the 1st of January next.

SAVANNAH, July 26.

Thirteen deaths from cholera occurred among the soldiers on Tybee Island to-day, and 28 new cases are reported.

VETO NO. FIVE. Time was when the utterances of Andrew Johnson could stir the heart of the country. Alas, that one must say "time was!" For there is no sadder sight than a man who, being dead, thinks himself alive. Dead? Yes, so dead that, but for the formal necessity of the hour, his last veto message would not have been read in either house of Congress! Dead? Yes, so dead that men have ceased to think of him as an agent of good.

More than all things else, Mr. Lincoln loved the people; and from his great love of that class forever made glorious in the name "Plain People", came his quick sympathy with the common thought and aspiration. This made him pre-eminently a teachable man. He was always wiser to-day than yesterday—he was never ashamed to confess that he had been mistaken. Wherefore, he filled larger and larger space in the hearts of men with each day of his life, and in his death became an inheritance of most precious value to every sincere soul—an inheritance that can never be wasted, but must forever increase in beauty and power.

Shall I paint you the picture of Mr. Johnson? I have no heart for the work—let him sketch his own portait. Here it is, in a single sentence:—"Adhering to the principles set forth in my former veto message, I now reaffirm them and the line of policy therein indicated." You cannot say of him that he forgets nothing, for I expect we shall yet have him taking the hint of Mr. Stevens and denying that he ever said "treason must be made odious" and "traitors must take the back seat"; but you will outline him beyond all mistake if you say he never learns anything. I think that the President of a great nation of most earnest men and women has been taught nothing by all these long weeks of sorrow and agitation—nothing by all these tears and prayers.

BRINGING IN TENNESSEE. He who makes proper allowances for the infirmities of human nature in its unregenerated state, can hardly blame the President for swearing lustily, as it is reported he does, at the action of the Tennessee Legislature on the constitutional amendment, and the action of Congress on the Tennessee case. It is not in men of such raw material as that of which he is made to accept defeat with either grace or philosophy—and that he has suffered defeat in this long contest, he knows as well as you and I do.

I do not doubt that in the beginning the President meant well—his course proves how little sympathy he ever had with the political views of the party which gave him the Vice Presidency. That he has proved false to that party is a matter of comparatively little concern, the chief regret being that he has proved false to the cause whose banners that party carries.

That the resolution itself was quite unsatisfactory to the democrats and the President's special friends does not particularly appear from the published debates. Yet this is a fact. It reads: "is hereby restored "to its proper political relations in the Union and entitled to Senators," &c. You observe that the change of a couple of words makes a very decided difference in the idea expressed—so marked that though they begged most heartily, and, in the House, talked feelingly of "generosity" and "magnanimity," their plea availed them nothing.

Make them swallow the whole thing without "sugar coating!" exclaimed General Schenck calling across the desks and aisles to his friend Bingham, while they crowded around and besought him to accept an amendment. And they had to swallow it, preamble and resolution. Much good may it do them.—Correspondence of Boston Advertiser.

HOW INSURRECTIONS ARE PUT DOWN IN SPAIN. The Paris Temps publishes a private letter from Madrid, giving a striking account of the way insurrection is put down in Spain. Remember (says the writer) that at no time military executions were of every-day occurrence in Spain, so that I used to conjugate the verb "fusiller" (to shoot) as the shortest bulletin of news from Spain. The tradition seems to be still respected, and the logic of revolutions appears destined to remain eternally the same. At noon, two days back, twenty-one young fellows of the army, engaged in the late insurrection, almost all of handsome appearance, were taken out of the prisons, and after being tied together two by two, were placed in carriages with the windows wide open, and escorted by a numerous body of troops to the place of execution, a spot selected in the vicinity of the ground between the Salamanca Palace and the Champs Elysees. One of my friends is having five houses built not a hundred yards from the spot. The masonry and scaffolding are in course of erection, and afforded excellent positions for viewing the scene. There was a preliminary ceremony of military degradation; a promenade under the fire; then a discourse which I could not hear, but which lasted two hours, during which time these unfortunate men must have already suffered a thousand deaths. An enormous crowd which had followed the procession was kept at a distance by the troops.

At last the twenty-one victims were ranged in file at about a yard's distance from a low clay wall, with their backs to the soldiers, and then the discharge took place.—Nearly all of them fell. At the moment the Hermanos de la Caridad, or Brothers of Charity, rushed forward to save at least a few, but were repulsed by the troops, and the firing went on, and more than two hundred shots were fired. What a sight. I saw one man raise himself three times, and fall again on his knees, with his arms extended in a direction from which a piercing voice was heard to shriek in the midst of the massacre, "Federico! Federico!" The soldiers then approached the corpses, turned some of them over with their feet, and still perceiving some signs of life here and there, discharged a last shot point blank. All was then over. The bodies were thrown upon tumbrils, and the regiments filed off, some to an air from Norma, some to one from Semiramide.—Thirty more are to be shot in a day or two, all soldiers; the civilians will come after.—Let us hope that the Queen will show some compassion.

The resolution for an adjournment on Saturday at noon was carried through the Senate to-day, after some debate, by 20 to 13; and through the House by 98 to 55.—Some effort was made in the House to set it aside for Mr. Conkling's recess resolution, but the effort was a signal failure.

The President has signed the general telegraph bill, which some persons expected him to veto. It gives all new companies the right to run their roads over all postal and military roads and all public lands, and under all rivers, &c.—[Sp. to Boston Advertiser.

Ulysses S. Grant was to-day appointed General of the armies of the United States, and David G. Farragut Admiral of the Navy of the United States. Both nominations were sent to the Senate, taken up in executive session, and at once confirmed, by acclamation, and without being referred.—[Boston Adv.

The Richmond (Virginia) Republican says: "It is known to everybody that throughout Virginia, and all through the South, ladies who were the recognized leaders of society have betaken themselves to the needle for the support of their families, and are toiling industriously and as cheerfully in that vocation as if they had been bred to it from their childhood. Not only this, but in many instances they have performed the household duties, the cooking and other work, once exclusively done by their menials."

If the statement is true, the change will be wholesome for some of the Southern females, and will in the end operate well for the country. It will not hurt these women to work a little.

A severe thunder storm passed over Rising Sun, ind., on the 15th, and within a period of five minutes the lightning struck in four different places, occasioning in one instance loss of life. The Methodist Sunday School had been dismissed somewhat hurriedly in consequence of the impending storm. Two boys, one the son of Mr. John H. Jones, and the other his cousin, a son of Mr. Samuel Seward, remained to put away the books, and they were just leaving the church when the lightning struck the steeple, passing to the ground, killing young Jones instantly, and burned all the clothes off his person above the waist. Three dwelling-houses, situated a half mile from each other, were struck by lightning about the same time, but no serious damage was done.

Patterson, the son-in-law of the President, will of course act with the minority in the Senate. Fowler, his colleague, will be found in opposite ranks. Of the Representatives, Cooper, Campbell and Leftwich, are Democrats, and Taylor, Maynard and Stokes Arnold and Hawkins, were chosen as Unionists.

In a company of Norwegian emigrants which lately passed through Milwaukee, was an old lady a hundred and five years old. She had in the company four children all married, twenty grandchildren, fifteen of whom are married, forty-four great-grandchildren, six of whom are married, and ten great-great-grand children, making in all seventy-eight descendants. If the wives and husbands of these direct descendants of the old lady are added, there will be a family of one hundred and three members. The name of this wonderful woman, "the mother of the mighty race," is Katrine Hansen.

A GOOD DECISION. The English lords of the bench decided at Westminster, about a month ago, that it was a principle of common law, that a counsellor, in questioning a witness, should address him in ordinary tones, and in language of respect, such as is employed by a gentleman in conversation with another; that such lawyer has no right to question the private business or moral character of a witness, any further than it is apparent they absolutely effect his reliability or touch the case in hand; and that a witness is not bound to answer questions put to him in an insulting manner.

The friends of a celebrated wit expressed some surprise that, at his age, and with his fondness of the bottle, he should have married. "A wife was necessary," he said. "My acquaintances all began to say I drank too much for a single man."

"What is the difference 'twixt a watch and a feather bed, Sam?" Dunno, gin it up." "Because de tickin on de watch is on de inside, and de tickin ob de feather bed is on de outside."

What General Chamberlain Says.

All must unite in demanding security for the future. We must have guarantees good and sufficient against any future attempt to destroy this Government whether in the exercise of a pretended right by open war or BY MORE ARTFUL AND INSIDIOUS ASSAULTS against the principles on which this Nation was founded. These are points we cannot compromise without danger and dishonor; and WHEN THE SOUTHERN STATES SHALL HAVE COMPLIED WITH THOSE CONDITIONS IN GOOD FAITH, they will be in a condition to ask association and fellowship with the loyal commonwealths of the country which they deserted with such violence and scorn. UNTIL THAT TIME, in my judgment it is wise to hold them in strict probation. * * * *

We cannot go back to gather up the fragments of the Union as it was; we must now recognize the nation as it is, and make the Constitution what it should be."

Let the Government and the National Debt be Secure against Rebel Control.

The vital question in American politics at present is the ratification of the new constitutional amendment, as proposed by Congress to the States; and it is important that every man who loves his country, and believes that free institutions are essential to its life, should keep this fact steadily in mind—not suffering himself to be deluded for a moment by the sophistries of democratic or Johnson-an defenders of "State rights" on secession theories.

What is involved in the ratification? Two most important and vital matters.

First. Whether the basis of representation shall remain as now fixed, giving the former slave States 104 of 100 members of the lower House, after the next apportionment, being an increase of fourteen to sixteen members, in consequence of the emancipation of the slaves—or whether it shall be so changed as to prevent those States from having representation for the freedmen whom they do not allow to vote—thus reducing their representation from 90 to about 68 members. Whether the old rebels shall be allowed to send some forty members of the House, and choose the same number of Presidential electors, as representatives of the freedmen, who are not allowed to vote, or whether their representation shall be restricted practically to their fair and honest voting population. In other words, the question may be put thus: Whether we shall so increase Southern representation, (while the voting population remains the same), as to give to the rebels and the copperheads a strong chance of getting control of Congress, as well as of the Executive department of the government? or whether we shall reduce them to their just and proper political power.

Second. Whether the National Debt and the National Credit shall be subject to the control of a rebel and copperhead Congress. Whether the question of paying for the emancipated slaves, and PAYING THE REBEL AS WELL AS THE LOYAL DEBT OF THE NATION, shall also be subject to the decision of such a Congress, or whether we shall put it beyond the power of rebels and copperheads thus to ruin the Republic—by the adoption of a constitutional amendment, not to be rescinded except by the votes of three-fourths of the States.

Such are the plain, practical, vital issues of the present campaign. We might say, in fact, that it comes to this: Shall we settle the question of reconstruction upon a basis of permanent peace, or shall we have another civil war within three or four years? Give the old rebels and their copperhead friends control of Congress and the Executive, and war is as sure to follow as night is to follow day. The rebel leaders are as venomously hostile to free government, free schools, free churches and free labor, as they ever were—made more bitterly hostile than ever, by the war—and they will take advantage of their first advent to political power to undermine and overthrow free institutions, or by attempting it, to force the country again into civil war. Can any candid, reflecting man doubt that such would be the result?

Is it not vitally important, therefore, that the ratification of the constitutional amendment, giving us a safeguard against so deplorable a result, should be secured before the rebel States are admitted to a full representation? Is it not the duty of Congress to keep those States unrepresented until this safeguard is obtained? Tennessee has ratified the amendment. The pretence of President Johnson and the copperheads that she has not, because a quorum of the House did not vote, is but a pretence, and would be at once overruled by the Supreme Court—as a quorum was present and proved to be so; and the House had a right to compel the attendance of a quorum. But the ratification of Tennessee is not sufficient to secure the requisite number of States. The votes of four or five of the old Slave States will be necessary. And it is vitally important that a strong, reliable majority shall be returned to the next Congress, of men who will never consent to receive those rebel State representatives until the amendment shall be ratified. This may be the only salvation of the country against the terrible calamity of having a rebel and copperhead Congress to manipulate the public debt and the national credit.

We believe in having the present Legislatures of the loyal States ratify the amendment, at once, and make so much certain before the next meeting of Congress. The thing will then be narrowed down to the question whether four or five of the rebel States will ratify, or whether they will go without representation. Next winter will be too long a postponement. The question should, as far as possible, be decided while its importance is fresh in the minds of the people, and as an offset to the treacherous influence which President Johnson is now exercising to defeat the ratification—after having fully and freely declared himself in favor of the principle of reducing southern representation to the basis of their voting population. To this end we believe that special sessions should be called of all the northern Legislatures, which do not regularly meet until next winter. If one State sets the example, others will follow. A single day's session would be sufficient, and the cost would not be great. The Portland and other State papers have already favored it, and we believe the people desire it.

The Constitutional amendment is well enough in itself, but, Congress has no more right to make its endorsement by Tennessee or any other insurrectionary State a condition precedent to admission of her representatives than it would to apply the same test to our always loyal States.—Times.

This is precisely the point of difference, and vital difference between the Johnson men, the rebels and the copperheads, on one side, and the union majority in Congress and the people on the other. We say, and Congress says, that it has that right—that the terms of reconstruction have been, and are yet, in the hands of Congress—that President Johnson had no power by proclaiming peace to debar Congress from imposing conditions upon rebel States—and that it has that right now as it has ever had it since the rebels first forfeited their constitutional rights, by their infamous rebellion. As to Tennessee, Congress simply exercised its discretion in admitting its members as soon as the State has ratified the amendment. That admission yields not principle—retracts no position—gives up no right. The right of Congress to insist upon the adoption of the amendment before admitting the other rebel States generally to representation, remains the same, and we do not understand the vote as at all yielding the intention of Congress so to do. It is safe to admit the representatives of such of the rebel States as do ratify the amendment, and is an encouragement to others to do the same. The Times, however, (now become a thorough Johnson paper) denies the right of Congress to impose any conditions. And still it keeps at the head of its columns the name of Gen. Chamberlain, who says:

All must unite in demanding security for the future. We must have guaranties good and sufficient, against any future attempt to destroy the government; and WHEN THE SOUTHERN STATES SHALL HAVE COMPLIED WITH THOSE CONDITIONS IN GOOD FAITH, they will be in condition to ask association and fellowship with the loyal commonwealths of the country which they deserted with such violence and scorn. UNTIL THAT TIME, in my judgment, it is wise to hold them in strict probation. * * * *

Does the Times pretend to say, that by the above language Gen. Chamberlain does not mean to say that Congress should require these conditions before admitting representatives from rebel States? Wonderful as it may seem, we believe the Times does pretend this. It is obliged to pretend it, or come out and show its true colors by opposing the Union nomination for Governor. We boldly affirm, however, that General Chamberlain means that and nothing less. If he does not, the Times can doubtless get him to say so.

THE NEW SOUTHERN HOMESTEAD ACT. Under the Act introduced by Mr. Rice of our State, and recently passed by Congress and approved by President Johnson, the public lands in the Southern States are withdrawn from the market, and, until Jan. 1st 1867, will be open to loyal settlers only, after which they will be free to all. The extent of this measure may not be generally known. In February last (says the Kennebec Journal) there were in the States named below the following quantities of surveyed land unsold:

In Arkansas,	9,298,015 70	acres.
In Alabama,	6,732,058 68	"
In Florida,	19,379,635 61	"
In Louisiana,	6,228,302 45	"
In Mississippi,	4,760,736 03	"

Of this area at least thirty millions of acres are arable land, and it is estimated that 375,000 homesteads, accommodating no less than 1,875,000 persons, can be had under the act. For six months disloyalists cannot get a foothold there, so that if the new lands are not substantially monopolized by a good loyal population, white and black, it will be their own fault. But there is no fear of the opportunity being thrown away. These fertile regions, right in the heart of the old slaveholding section, will be opened up to a class of farmers whose loyalty will be strengthened by their gratitude to the government for the gift of their homes, and who will necessarily become the friends of free schools, a free press and all the other attendants of American progress.

The importance of this splendid opening of the soil and resources of the South to the colored people, who have never before had the opportunity to acquire even land enough on which to erect their miserable hovels and to locate the graves of their kindred, can hardly be over-estimated.

On Tuesday last, Messrs. Porter, Marable, Brittle, Foster, Martin and Williams, members of the Tennessee House of Representatives, were expelled. The two latter were the members recently arrested. Speaker Hieskell, of the House, was relieved from duty for the remainder of the term at his own request, and Judge Norman was elected Speaker pro tem.

Irresponsible Counterfeiters.

One of the most serious annoyances which the proprietors of an article in universal demand have to encountor is the piratical imitation of it by parties equally unscrupulous and irresponsible. An individual of a firm with means engages in this nefarious business, the damages awarded by a court of justice for the offense are collectable, and it is some satisfaction to the party wronged that the wronger is made to suffer; but in most cases the pirates are men of straw, who cannot respond in dollars to the law's award.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS being a Standard Tonic, marketable everywhere, and representing the value affixed to it as accurately as a National Bank bill represents the amount expressed on its face, has been extensively counterfeited and simulated. The proprietors have spent many thousand dollars in hunting up and hunting down irresponsible individuals and firms who have given their minds to this dirty work. These parties—some of them, at least—have a way of changing their base, though they never change their baseness. When an injunction is laid upon them in one part of the country they sometimes "vamose" to another and try the trick again. In some cases it is necessary to kill them two or three times over. Perhaps the best thing that can be done under these circumstances is to "lay an injunction" upon all who use the Bitters to, buy only of dealers whom they can trust. In every city, town and village of the United States and British America this famous tonic, alterative and protective medicine may be procured of reliable men of business.

An Effectual Worm Medicine.

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

Or WORM LOZENGES. Much sickness, undoubtedly with children and adults, attributed to other causes is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child.—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes protonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

An Invaluable Spring Medicine.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

HUMOR DOCTOR.

This excellent medicinal remedy was first prepared by Dr. Poland in 1847, and was then employed with great success in expelling humors from the blood; but in 1848, a medical friend, who was quite celebrated as a physician, especially in the treatment of humors, suggested some important improvements, which were adopted, and which have made it (as the people say,) the very best remedy for all kinds of humors known to "the faculty." This preparation is composed wholly of vegetables, among which are Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Burdock, Nobla Pine, Mandrake, Senna and Bloodroot. Suffice it to say, the "Doctor" is used in hundreds of families as a general medicine. Unlike many other popular remedies, it is very grateful to the taste.

Thirty-Ninth Congress.

FIRST SESSION.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 26

The credentials of Mr. Patterson, Senator elect from Tennessee, were taken from the table, and Mr. Sumner moved that the credentials be referred to the Judiciary committee to inquire whether Mr. Patterson could take the oath.

Mr. Cowan supposed Mr. Patterson was the best judge whether he can take the oath or not.

Mr. Sumner stated that he had been assured by more than one gentleman from Tennessee that Patterson had acted as Judge under the rebel authority, and in that capacity he took the oath of allegiance or some equivalent oath to the rebel government.

Mr. Johnson—I do not see how the judiciary committee can make the enquiry or decide that question. It must be decided by the gentlemen for himself, subjected to the responsibility of committing perjury.

A bill making Calais, Me., a port of entry and clearance was passed.

A bill for the removal of causes in certain cases from State courts was passed.

A short executive session was then holden. On re assembling, a bill to pay $180,000 to contractors of iron clad Camanche was passed.

The joint resolutions from the House to print an official history of the rebellion was taken up, amendments concurred in and bill passed.

The Senate then took a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

A bill for reimbursing Nebraska for repelling the Indian invasion of 1864, was passed.

The deficiency bill was taken up.

Mr. Sumner's amendment increasing the pay of the clerks of the State department was lost.

An amendment was adopted appropriating $30,000 for deficiencies in the census appropriation, with a proviso that no money be paid to rebels.

Twenty-five thousand dollars were appropriated for expenses of the Cherokee Indians, in coming to Washington to make a treaty.

An amendment was adopted, being substituted for the bill, paying officers for lost horses

The amendment provides that officers having such claims forward them for settlement to second comptroller.

The deficiency bill then passed.

The joint resolution continuing in full force all laws and parts of laws relative to the U S army, enacted since July 4th, 1861, was offered and ordered to be printed.

The Senate then went into executive session.

Adjourned.

House.

The committee on commerce reported resolutions to construe the act to provide for the safety of passengers on steam vessels so as not to apply to boats used exclusively as tugs or tow boats. Passed.

The House resumed the consideration of the Senate bill granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the States of Missouri and Arkansas to the Pacific coast, the corporation to be designated "The Atlantic & Pacific Railroad Co."

An amendment was adopted striking out the names of members of Congress as corporators.

Mr. Lawrence wished to offer an amendment, reserving to Congress the power to fix the rates of charges for freight and passengers, but Mr. Price refused to allow it to be offered. The bill was then passed—yeas 60, nays 44.

The House considered the bill authorizing the payment of rewards for the capture of Jeff Davis and the assassins of President Lincoln.

Mr. Deland offered a substitute following the award of Judge Holt.

Mr. Briggs offered an amendment following the award of the War Department in regard to the captors of Booth and Harold, giving $3750 to Col. Baker; $7500 to Lt. Dotherity; $4000 to each of the detectives; Sergeant Corbett and the other Sergeants of the party $2545; to Corporals, 2291,09; and to privates, $2036.

Mr. Stevens protested against $3750 being paid to Col. Baker, a man, who, he said was not out of this city at the time, and who made more money out of the war than any other man.

Mr. Briggs added that Mr. Baker was building a large hotel in Lansing, Michigan, he was informed, out of the money he made in the war.

After debate the bill was amended so as to give Col. Conger, commander of the expedition, $15,000; L. C. Baker, $3750; L. B. Baker and Dorherity, $5300; Major O'Brien, $2000; Sergeant Corbet, and each of the 16th, N. Y. cavalry $16500. The bill as thus amended was passed.

A large number of bills were reported from committees and acted on.

The joint resolution paying Mrs. Mary Phelps, of Mo., $20,000 to reimburse her for raising and equipping Union troops; for expenditures by her in aid of wounded Union soldiers; for expenditures in behalf of Union soldiers, was passed unanimously.

A joint resolution was passed authorizing the Secretary of War to contract with A. Brown for a bronze equestrian statue of Gen Scott, to be made of guns captured in vessel, at an expense of $20,000.

A message from the President relative to Fenian prisoners was read and ordered to be printed.

The Senate amendment to the civil appropriation bill was referred to appropriation committee, with orders to report back as an amendment bill equalizing bounties.

The bill reported by Mr. Banks yesterday to more effectually preserve neutrality relations of the United States was taken up.—Its provisions were explained by General Banks.

A. R Raymond moved a substitute.

Mr Orth and Mr Patterson favored the substitute.

The substitute was rejected, and General Banks' bill passed.

During the debate General Banks stated that this bill was almost identical with one passed during Washington's administration.

After the passage of the neutrality bill, the conference committee on the additional tariff bill reported. The report was disagreed to.

EVENING SESSION.

After some debate, the House insisted on its amendment to the additional tariff bill, and asked for another conference committe.

The joint resolution suspending the collection of taxes in the burned portion of Portland was reported back by the conference committee with amendments and passed.

The bill increasing the pensions of widows and orphans of revolutionary soldiers was passed.

Several Senate bills were referred.

The bill granting land in aid of a railroad from opposite the mouth of Ohio river, on Mississippi to Texas, was passed.

Bill for the removal of certain cases from State to United State Courts was passed.

The bill for relief of the contractors of Monitor Camanche was referred.

The bill amending internal revenue, act of March 3, 1865, by striking out words "without having bought a license so to do," and inserting the words "without paying the special tax therefore," was passed.

Adjourned.

—The Portland Argus says Mr. Walter Brown, of that city, champion oarsman of New England, is now in Worcester, with his boat to pull in the regatta there.

THE SEASON. We have not for many years had a season, where the maximum of heat has been so high, while vegetation of all kinds has been verdant and flourishing, and the droughts of summer have been so long delayed as during the present year.—While the weather has been very warm for the past four weeks, frequent and copious showers and much lightning, have kept the air pure, the ground moist, and vegetation in excellent condition. The hay and grain crops are secured against failure, and the potatoes, unless struck with disease within the next three weeks, will yield most bountifully. The early varieties are already beginning to come to market in good condition.

—The Portland Star says that Mr. Sam'l Soule who resided at No. 7 Quincy street, was very badly burned about the face and hands while removing some goods during the late fire. It is supposed too that he inhaled some of the flame, for he is now in a languishing condition from the effects of the fire and is not expected to live.

—A writer in the Argus urges that the city of Portland loan its credit to the amount of $300,000 or $500,000 to owners of land, in portions of the burnt district where wooden buildings have now been prohibited, in order that substantial brick dwellings may be erected.

—The amount collected in Boston for the Portland sufferers now reaches about $125,000.

—The people of Kendalls Mills sent four car-loads of lumber to the Portland sufferers last week.

—The Argus says that the officers are still busy in looking after the godless scoundrels that robbed citizens on the occasion of the great fire. Goods are being recovered every day. There will be a large number of these cases laid before the Grand Jury.

—A strong protest has been sent from Nova Scotia to the Home Government against the proposed "confederation" of the British American Provinces. The people object to being governed by Canada, a thousand miles away.

—The Machias Republican says that Emory H. Talbot, son of Rev. M. J. Talbot of Newport, R. I., and grandson of Hon. M. J. Talbot of East Machias, Me., has received the unanimous recommendation of the examining Board, as the most suitable one, from among the competitors, to be nominated to represent that District in the Naval Academy, at Annapolis.

—The Bath Times speaks of a beautiful yacht boat building in that city for parties in West Waterville, to be used as a pleasure boat on Belgrade Pond. She is of the Newport style, 25 feet long by 11 wide, built of oak and copper fastened.

—The Lewiston Journal publishes communications from the Treasurer of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the Superintendent of the Maine Central Railroad, both of which Corporations decline compensation for transporting firemen and supplies to Portland, on the occasion of the late fire. The sum thus allowed would aggregate six hundred dollars, as at least 800 firemen and several car loads of supplies were sent to Portland.

—Col. Peter A. Sinnott, formerly of the 1st Fenian Infantry, publishes a statement that while at Eastport, with his command, he contracted debts to the amount of $1675,50, per order of John O'Mahoney; Mr. James Stephens recognized agent in this country, and when the latter pays those bills he (Sinnott) says he will only be too happy to withdraw his suit against Stephens. Col. Sinnott states that he was sued for the same bills by parties at Eastport.

—The Bangor Times says seven vessels laden with lumber cleared from that port on Saturday week.—Lewiston Journal

The average of lumber-laden vessels leaving this port per day for the entire season is about ten As many as thirty or forty cargoes frequently clear in a single day.

—Quite a little pow-wow occurred in the streets of San Francisco in consequence of the appearance of one Mrs. Eliza Hurd DeWolfe, in a costume which the boys thought more befitting one of the sterner sex. She was arraigned before the Court for disturbing the peace, much to the disgust of her husband, Chas. H. DeWolfe, who formerly resided in Oldtown, in this State. The male Wolfe informed the Court that he had perambulated the world in search of civil and religious liberty, that he had finally located in America, and if his wife couldn't be allowed to wear corduroys in the streets of San Francisco, he was bound to take the first train for kingdom come—he shouldn't look any farther in this world for liberty. Notwithstanding the eloquent appeal of the husband, and the equally forcible arguments of the lady, that all the woman wore hats and jackets and that the only difference was that she had lengthened out her pantalets and left off an extra skirt or two—the cruel judge decided that she must change her apparel and appear on the streets dressed like other women, or not appear at all

The Court, however, allowed that the costume might be more comfortable than that ordinarily worn—in fact rather thought it was—but the peace of the city required the sacrifice on the part of the lady The Court couldn't remodel the boys—it could restrain the woman—and so long as boys will cohoot and yell, women must yield to fashion, which, we suppose, means wear platters on their heads, and petticoats on their—hoop skirts.

Ladies now may safely say that they have judicial authority for following the fashions—husbands to the contrary notwithstanding.

—A special despatch to the Boston Journal says that the Senate refused to confirm the nomination of Monroe Young as Collector of the port of Frenchman's Bay.

DISCHARGED. G. M. Delaney, a recruiting agent of Augusta, Maine, who in June, 1865, was tried by a court martial at Washington for alleged defrauding of the government, and sentenced to ten years' confinement in the New Hampshire State Prison, and to pay a fine of $45,000, has been unconditionally discharged by order of the President, and his fine remitted

—A "retired navigator" in Belfast, one day last week was shooting robins that were robbing his cherry trees when he shot off the thumb of a boy, who, unperceived, was also picking off "just a few." The "navigator" was not aware that he had hit other than robins until the next day when he was waited upon by two police officers with a process commanding his arrest. This payment of two dollars secured his release. So says the Age.

—The following nominations for appointments, all as Second Lieutenants in the Regular Army, and all recommended by a board of officers, have been confirmed:

In the 1st Artillery—Lieut. Constantine Chase of the Maine 3d Artillery.

In the 2d Artillery—Captain Adelbert B. Twitchell, 7th Maine.

In the 5th Artillery—Lt. Frank Thorpe, 7th Maine Battery.

In the 18th Infantry—Lieut. Col E. A. True, 8th Maine.

—The Soldiers and Sailors of Piscataquis County, held a meeting in Dover, the 16th instant, for the purpose of forming a Union. A constitution was adopted, and officers elected.

DEDICATION OF A MASONIC HALL. On Wednesday evening, Star in the East Lodge of F. & A. M., at Oldtown, dedicated their new an commodious hall with appropriate ceremonies. The services were performed by M. W. Grand Master T. J. Murray of Portland, assisted by other officers of the Grand Lodge, after which appropriate addresses were made by Grand Master Murray and Rev. J. O. Knowles. A large number of brethren and ladies were present, who finished up the evening with an excellent collation in Hunt's Hall.

The new hall is a very fine one, made by adding a story to the store of Geo. F. Dillingham, Esq., and is convenient for the purpose for which it is intended, well ventilated, pleasant, and handsomely furnished. The members may well be pleased with their new home.

—The Press says that the stores burned on Free Street will all be rebuilt this season.

—Calais, Eastport and Machias Post Offices are made money order offices.

—The Aroostook Pioneer says that crops are looking finely, especially grass, in that region.

MY SPIDER.

BY FITZ JAMES O'BRIEN.

Spinning, spinning, ever spinning,
Spins a little spider,
And I watch her weave her net,
Sitting close beside her.
And she weaves with subtle art,
Over, in, and under,
Till the complicated mesh
Seems a perfect wonder.

The web she spins is never meant
To catch the poor blue bottle,
Nor the golden armored wasp,
To hamper and to throttle;
For the threads my spider weaves,
Are curiously ethereal—
Little sight and pretty looks,
And such like old material.

Ah, the web is meant for me,
Poor unhappy poet,
There's no use in struggling now
I'm done for, and I know it.
Sunny curls and moonlight waists,
And passages from Byron,
Have bound me over in chains as strong,
As trippie-hammered iron.

Cease your spinning—your poor game,
Owns that you have won him,
Cease your spinning, wily one,
I'm a willing victim.
Crown your sacrifice with flowers,
I'll neither lag nor falter,
Put a ribbon round my neck,
And lead me to the altar.

Ode by a Brooklynite.

She came like a beautiful vision,
To brighten the night of my care;
Her dress was arranged with precision,
In ringlets descended her hair.

In a stage on its way to the ferry,
We met, as is usual by chance;
'Neath the smil of her glance my very
Soul sank into heavenly trance.

Alas! how by rude fate are banished
Illusions we'd willingly nurse!
I started—my vision had vanished,
And so had my watch and my purse.

The Round Table publishes a startling article upon drunkenness among women. It says the vice is prevalent among fashionable ladies, and that some of the most elegant of them will pass this summer not at Saratoga or Newport as usual, but at an asylum for inebriates. The writer intimates that the vice of fashionable drinking is now more prevalent among the ladies than among the gentlemen of this country; that certain dress-makers make it a point to furnish their customers with a drink, while in some stores bottles of wine are also kept on hand for lady shoppers, and in others the merchants allow their boys to go to the nearest bar-room for liquor when ladies desire it. Whisky and brandy are the favorite drinks of these ladies, and as some of the saloons they frequent do not have these liquors on the bill of fare, a neat little sign—"If you do not see what you want, ask for it," gives the hint to the initiated. In dress makers' bills the significant item small trimmings often covers up the expense of liquors which the lady has ordered through the modiste who panders to her vitiated taste, while at the watering places a bribe to the waiter procures a secret supply of liquors, which by the contrivance of the landlord, is charged as 'extra luncheons.' It is asserted that girls of eighteen, daughters of the most respectable New York merchants, have been seen grossly intoxicated in Broadway stages and upon the public streets; and that no superiority of intellect or social position is sufficient to guard a lady against this vice.

'WE SHALL EAT THE FRUIT.' A mechanic had in his possession, but under mortgage, a house and piece of land. Like many others, he was at one time fond of the social glass, but was happily induced by a friend to join the temperance society. About three months afterwards he observed his wife one morning busily employed planting roses and fruit bushes. 'Mary,' said he, 'I have owned this cot for five years, and I have never known you to care to improve and ornament it in this manner.' Indeed,' replied the smiling wife, 'I had no heart to do it until you gave up drinking. I had often thought of it before, but I was persuaded that should I do it, and you continued the use of intoxicating drink, some stranger would pluck the roses and eat the fruit. Now with God's blessing, this cot will be ours, and we and our children may expect to enjoy the produce. We shall pluck the roses and eat the fruit.'

A WAR INCIDENT. The following incident is current in Florence:

A ballet dancer at Venice, while dancing at the theatre there, had a bouquet thrown to her, tied with a ribbon in Italian colors. She immediately kissed the ribbon, which created tremendous enthusism amongst the audience. After the performance she was called to the police office, and sharply reprimanded for this act of patriotism. She excused herself she thought by saying that in kissing the bouquet she had only followed the universal custom on such occasions; but the authorities would not accept this excuse and told her that at another time she should not kiss the bouquet, but tread it under foot. The following evening another was thrown and the dancer, in compliance with her instructions, trod it under foot, again amid frantic applause. The ribbon round the bouquet was, however, no red, green and white, but black and yellow—the colors of Austria.

WHO WAS JENNY? In that rare collection of good things, the first volume of Sargent's 'Gem Series,' entitled The Emerald, I find the following poem by Leigh Hunt:

Jenny kissed me when we met,
Jumping from the chair she sat in;
Time, you thief, who love to get
Sweets into your list, put that in!

Say I'm weary, say I'm sad;
Say that health and wealth have missed me;
Say I'm growing old, but add—
Jenny kissed me!

I quote the above lines, because since death has removed the Jenny referred to, it will be no breach of good manners to say that she was Jane Welsh Carlyle, wife of Thomas Carlyle, the celebrated author. The occasion on which this celebrated kiss was given was when Leigh Hunt brought her the intelligence that the British Government had given a life pension to her husband. Mrs. Carlyle at once impulsively jumped up and kissed the venerable bearer of the good news. [Correspondence Boston Transcript.

QUITE A DIFFERENCE. While we are sweltering with the heat—the thermometer ranging at from 96 to 100 in the shade—those who navigate the great lakes have been shivering with the cold. Seamen inform the editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel that they hardly ever experienced colder weather in summer than during the past few weeks. The schooner Toledo left Manistee on the 4th of July for Milwaukee. Her helmsman was obliged on Friday to wear heavy winter mittens, in order to keep his hands from becoming benumbed with cold, and the officer in charge only kept up his animal heat by walking the deck in a heavy overcoat. Those on board of other vessels at a later period, speak of the unusual severity of the weather. It is expected to be much cooler outside than in shore, but such a difference as this is quite rare.

Sir William B——, being at a parish meeting, made proposals, which was objected to by a farmer. Highly enraged he said: 'Sir, do you know sir, that I have been at the two universities, and at two colleges in each university?'

'Well, sir,' said the farmer, 'what of that? I had a calf that sucked two cows, and the observation I made was, the more he sucked the greater calf he grew.'

A man living in Atlanta, Georgia, sends to the Wyandotte Gazette, Kansas, the small sum of fifty thousand dollars, Confederate money, and asked the editor to send the paper a month.

SAGACITY OF THE DOG. A gentleman of the name of McLaffin, in Rockingham county, New Hampshire a few years ago, possessed a dog that was very remarkable for his sagacity. He one day told the dog to go and find a handkerchief which his child had lost in a distant field, while picking berries. The dog started off with his usual alacrity, but in the course of an hour or two he returned without the handkerchief, looking as drest fallen as though he had been caught in a neighbor's sheepfold. The master cuffed his ears sharply, and told him to go and try again; and not come back until he had found it.—The dog started off again with apparent reluctance, while the master followed at a distance unperceived. The dog went towards a field where the child had picked the berries, and sat down on his haunches—held down his head—and appeared to be in a deep brown study.

He sat in this attitude for perhaps half an hour, when he suddenly jumped up with a peculiar yell of exultation, and started for one corner of the field. Here he stopped for a moment, and then commenced trotting around the field, going about three feet from the fence for the first time, about six feet the second, and thus continued to near the middle at each succeeding circle. He went round the field about twenty times, when he jumped up into the air with a loud yell of triumph, picked up the handkerchief and started for home.

The veracity of this narrative may be relied upon. We received it from Mr. F——, a Baptist clergyman of great respectability. Now did the dog reason mathematically? Does this go to add proof that instinct is but another name for reason?—[Family Visitor.

HAUNTED HOUSE AT NEWTON.—For several weeks past considerable talk has prevailed in certain circles in this city in reference to "mysterious demonstrations" which were taking place in the family of a highly respectable gentleman, a merchant, doing business in this city, but residing in Newton. He and his wife are entirely free from suspicion of having anything to do with the manifestations which have been witnessed in their house, and which to them appear most unaccountable and strange. For some time past, and generally when the family were all present, articles in the room were observed to move about without any visible cause, and the doors would open and shut in like manner. This soon attracted serious attention, and caused considerable alarm, yet the manifestations would continue daily, with increased demonstrations. At another time the sword of their son, who was killed in the war, was taken from its scabbard by invisible hands, and handled in true military style. A sea shell started up from its resting place and went whizzing through the air, and finally struck so heavily against the wall as to banish all idea of "mere imagination." These manifestations were witnessed in broad daylight by the whole family and large numbers of friends and neighbors. The explanation of the affair, by spiritualists is this:—"The parents above alluded to lost a noble and gallant son, who had distinguished himself as an officer of one of the Massachusetts regiments, during the war of the rebellion, and being anxious to let his skeptical parents know that he still lives and is able to come back and communicate with them, has taken this means to draw their attention to the fact, hoping thereby to induce them to lay aside their prejudices and in a candid manner examine the facts in regard to spirit communion." The wife has been obliged to leave the house on account of the shock given to her nervous system. Names are not mentioned, as the parties are very sensitive on the subject.—[Boston Post.

A QUIET OLD LADY.—A correspondent writing from East Sandwich, says: "There is living in this place an old lady by the name of Hall, who for more than fifty years has not been one hundred feet from her door. The last time she went was when the English were expected to land near here in the war of 1812, when she went to one of her neighbor's about half a mile off. She has always enjoyed good health. She has a nephew and also a cousin living within fifty yards of her, who have repeatedly offered to lay a board walk to their houses for her, but she refuses to go even as far as that."—Nantucket Inquirer.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

A positive and specific remedy for all disease originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

L

SCROFULA,
STRUMA, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS,
ULCERATION, KING'S EVIL,
ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM

This taint (HEREDITARY and ACQUIRED,) filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

RHEUMATISM.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of twenty or thirty years standing have been cured.

I

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervous Debility, Shattered Nerves,
St. Vitus' Dance, Loss of Power,
Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfills more than in promise.

MERCURIAL DISEASES

Salivation, Rotting of Bones,
Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones,
Feeling of Weakness, Depression of Spirits.

F

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

and all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

E

CURES ALL SWELLING OF THE GLANDS,

Either of the Face, Neck, or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking, and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

S

All scrofulous persons suffering from general Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia and Dropsy of the limbs, abdomen, and in the female, Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort.

Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body, will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife, or operations of any kind.

Y

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Disease of the Heart, as palpitation, Disease of the Valves, producing a grating or filing sound, Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ (persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart), will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

BROKEN DOWN AND DELICATE CONSTITUTIONS SUFFERING FROM INDISPOSITION TO EXERTION, PAIN IN THE BACK, LOSS OF MEMORY, FOREBODINGS, HORROR OF CALAMITY, FEAR OF DISEASE, DIMNESS OF VISION, DRY, HOT SKIN AND EXTREMITIES, WANT OF SLEEP, RESTLESSNESS, PALE, HAGGARD COUNTENANCE, AND LASSITUDE OF THE MUSCULAR SYSTEM, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

FOR ALL FORMS OF

Ulcerative Diseases,

Either of the NOSE, THROAT, TONGUE, SKIN, FOREHEAD or SCALP, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face depending upon the diseased action of the liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP, will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In the diseases of the Liver, giving rise to Languor, Dizziness, Indigestion, Weak Stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, will be relieved by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

U

☞ AS A GENERAL BLOOD PURIFYING AGENT THE LIFE SYRUP STANDS UNRIVALLED BY ANY PREPARATION IN THE WORLD.

THE RICH AND POOR

are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science has made the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD

Produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death is the result.

DR. KNIGHTS'

Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in the care and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. Dr. Knights' Oriental Hair Restorer, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.
